BASEBALL

Lewiston Taxis 4; Twin Towns 1

Buckland, the Taxis strong man provided a bugbear to the Twin Towns sluggers at Lewiston Tuesday afternoon. Five scattered hits were not sufficient to make a dent in the score board and a sprinkling of errors at the wrong time went bad against the Norway-So. Paris aggregation.

The Taxis started canning their product in the first session and laid away two runs on a three hits, one a bunt and a wild throw to first. With two batsmen laid away in the third heat, the Taxis opened again on Canavan and tapped freely until two more runners crossed safely. Beyond this nothing more happened at the plate.

Twin Towns barely escaped a shut out by a fortunate shift of the wind in their ninth. With two gone Carl Fuller pushed a safety into left and Big Bill White opened the throttle into center which scored Fuller. Although Fuller, F. Loud and White landed for extra bases, only the wallop sent skyward by White gained any advantages.

Kennedy, the Antilley bay played in right field for Ed. Loud who was on a motorcycle trip and held up by poor roads after the heavy shower Monday night. The summary:

Next Tuesday's Corporation Meeting

On Tuesday, August 15th at 7:30 o'clock is to be a Corporation Meeting to decide as to putting in a new and buying a new fire truck. Legal notice was made in last week's paper. Every taxpayer is interested.

If the abutons on this proposed sewer are willing to pay as an abutment tax a similar proportion as was paid when the original sewer was put in, there can be little or no objection on account of increased tax. This has not been agreed on as yet. That will be important and on it will largely depend the fate of the sewer. The burden of taxes is now all the property owners can carry.

The motor fire and chemical pump as suggested entails an expense of several thousand dollars per year for maintenance besides the purchase price of $8,000.00. Think of that! Can we afford it? That is the question. With a present tax rate, all told, of over 5 per cent, it might be well to economize to the extent of "passing over the article."

A Trip Around the Mountains

The party consisted of Prof. E. H. Brown, Roland E. Andrews, Glenn C. Andrews, Selwyn H. Towne, Harold Drake and Henry Cullinan. Having the best of weather for the entire trip it proved to be most enjoyable. Leaving Lewiston Tuesday morning, the party started by auto going to Jackson, way of Gorham, N. H., leaving the autos at Glen House, they climbed Mt. Washington by carriage road, reaching summit in four hours, early enough to get a fine view of the surrounding country. Here they stopped over night and about four a. m. were called to see the sunrise, which is a wonderful sight from this high altitude. After breakfast they descended by way of Tuckerman's Ravine, started by auto going to Jackson, through Crawford's Notch, but stopping at many points of interest along the way, crossing over to Franconia Notch, camped at Indian Head Thursday night. Next day visited The Flume, Lost River and many other places returning to Norway Friday afternoon by way of Plymouth, to Conway then Norway, covering a distance of about 300 miles in the 3 days.

Mellie Dunham will officiate at an old fashioned barn dance at Shepard's Barn Monday evening, August 14. Contra dances will be the rule with everything in keeping with those good old days before rag or jazz crowded "Old Zip Coo" off stage. Mellie Dunham knows how to saw off contra stuff and is in a class few country fiddlers can match.

Josephine Chase accompanied Mrs. Alice Williams, Community Chautauqua play leader to Portland Wednesday where they spent the day seeing the sights. Charles Brooks formerly of Norway now with the Western Union Telegraph Co. was in town, Monday. He has no location but travels over the state where he makes trips but a demand for a sky ride has been greatest among the summer guests around the lake. Clarence Blodgett formerly an aviator in the French army and Charles Glover from Harry Jones' school at Old Orchard have charge of the air boat. They were at Bridgton fair this week and expect to return late in August for a stay. They will be entertained at Shepard's Camps and the plane moored at the Shepard landing. Mason Kilgore's buildings on Danforth street are being painted by Josiah Witham's crew.

Swan Reunion

One of the largest family reunions of the season was held at Gibson's Grove, Sunday, when the Swan family of Paris were hostesses. There were 61-present, including William Swan and family of South Wymouth, Mass., Orville Clough and family, Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Mary Swan Blanchard, Winchester, Mass.; Miss Edna Swan, Chelsea, Mass.; James Swan and family, Elmer A. Frank and family, Fred Bethel, Portland, Maine; Fred Swan and family, Norway; Albert Dean and family, Ernest Herrick and family, Howard Swan and family, J. Harold Neal and family, Ernest Millett and family, Ernest Herrick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Penley, John Penley, George Penley, Everett Mitchell and family, Miss Addie Edgely, Amos A. Bird, Wilbur Swan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Clifford and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Wight, all of South Paris were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Berry and daughter

Eugenia of Grand View, Nyack, N. Y. are enjoying the natural beauties in this vicinity and fishy fishing on the lake. Mr. Berry is a prominent attorney in New York City. The family have head quarters at Beals Tavern. The family leave Saturday for Burgess Camp, South Arm.

Lewis Davis has a row boat 16 feet long, 38 inches beam, built by George Bennett after a pattern of lake boats in use here thirty years ago.

Bvelyn Davis returned Tuesday from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Yarmouth and Freeport. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moholland and children of Medford are visiting Mrs. Medford's mother, Mrs. Susan Cragin on Main street.

The hydroplane flying from Harrison to Lake Pennessawasee Friday attracted considerable attention and good business. During a four days' stay at Shepard's Camps between forty and fifty passengers have gone up for a spin over this territory. Several local sports including John C. Shepard and family, have made trips but a demand for a sky ride has been greatest among the summer guests around the lake. Clarence Blodgett formerly an aviator in the French army and Charles Glover from Harry Jones' school at Old Orchard have charge of the air boat. They were at Bridgton fair this week and expect to return late in August for a stay. They will be entertained at Shepard's Camps and the plane moored at the Shepard landing. Mason Kilgore's buildings on Danforth street are being painted by Josiah Witham's crew.

COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA

The Little Symphony Orchestra of Boston, six musicians, appeared before a large gathering Monday afternoon, Aaron Richmond, the well known pianist was manager and director. Their selections included gems from standard operas and other high grade composition. Several fox trots minus the crash and smash were rendered in an artistic way. The program was delightful and the team made a favorable impression.

The same team gave the prelude in the evening against big odds. A noisy electrical shower got in hard licks before the opening hour, and continued grumbling and shooting vivid flashes during their program. Rain beating on the big top completely smothered the fine and delicate passages. Despite the opposition from the elements, the orchestra kept at it and put across a satisfactory program.

Community Ideals was the subject of Prof. David D. Vaughan's lecture following the Little Symphony. Professor Vaughan is a gentleman who knows his subject and might be considered a radical for his advanced views. Reliving his early education in the streets of Chicago as newsboy, he climbed the ladder to better knowledge and is now professor of Social Service in Boston University. Community Ideals according to the speaker must include Truth, Liberty, Justice and Service, all these must be so blended that the individual and community shall know and understand their values and grow strong under their influence. The lecturer held the closest attention of some two hundred and fifty who braved the drenching-rain and electrical display. All concurred the speaker to be one of the best in our seven years of Community Chautauqua.

Prof. Vaughan appreciated the good sized audience weather considered, and in his opening remarks, said, "Well, you have some good sports up this way."

The Famous Faddettes Military Band

gave two concerts Tuesday before audiences that filled the tent. This organization is America's premiere women's band conducted by Bertha Silsby and a big feature-over the circuit. Without question the Faddettes proved the best and most popular band to appear here on the Chautauqua platform.

The matinee program was a pleasing variety of concert selections and descriptive numbers with the trap drummer working overtime with her kit. Selection "In a Bird Store" was especially pleasing to the audience composed largely of women and children. The attendance was 750, the largest afternoon crowd this season.

In the evening the numbers included marches, overtures and operatic selections with a sprinkling of popular jazz for encores. Piccolo and cornet solos and a brass quartet received merited applause. The thousand patrons which crowded the tent to capacity would not allow the Faddettes to leave the stage after the closing selection until an encore was given. This was the first time in local Chautauqua a band has received an enthusiastic curtain call.

Junior Chautauqua

The Junior Hippodrome with 106 children enrolled under the play-leader, Mrs. Alice Williams was the juvenile feature. The local assistants were Florence Leach and children of buildings on Danforth street are being painted by Josiah Witham's crew.

SOUTH PARIS

Mrs. H. N. Porter and daughter Marguerite are spending two weeks at Peak Island.

Mrs. Elmer Haggert is at Portland with her daughter, Mrs. Guy Stevens and family for a time.

Motorcycle patrolman Eugene Stevens covered 2,800 miles from July 4 to Aug. 4. Most of the distance being made on the concrete highway, while trips to Rumford and points on the state highway some distance from here figures in the grand total.

Norman Nicholson, Chester Drake, and William Russo of Revere, Mass., are camping on the Russell farm. They are on a trip to the White Mountains and other points of interest.

Hudson Knight passed his 88th birthday, July 31 and was showered with post cards and other greetings. Mr. Knight has good health and a constant reader of newspapers and magazines. He is abreast of the times and deeply interested in local and national happenings.

William Kenney has bought Dr. Chester M. Merrill's stand on Oxford street. Charles H. Howard and family and Eva Walker motored to Orr's Island for a day's outing.

Mrs. L. A. Rounds, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. Carter, at South Paris, Mass., returned last week and occupying her home here.

Glenn Starbird is in Lynn, Mass., for two weeks, visiting Helen Peterson, who has completed a vacation here.

Mrs. H. P. Forbes and daughter Leila G. Forbes of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Forbes of Ridgewood, N. Y., arrived here Friday afternoon, coming from Ridgewood through the Berkshires and the White Mountains.

Mrs. Harry W. Forbes left immediately on their return home. Mrs. H. P. Forbes and Leila Forbes will remain for a visit to relatives here and are guests at Mrs. L. C. Morton's.

Mrs. Caroline Clifford Matthews of Fort Fairfield and Mrs. Mary Clifford Colley and daughter of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Clifford. Wallace A. Clifford of New York, secretary of the importing firm of Alb. & E. Henkels, was also here over the week.

Mrs. Sarah Parlin and her Sunday school class enjoyed a picnic to Bear Pond in North Turner. Those who attended were Mae Penfold, Lenise Cummings, Geraldine Stewart, Miriam Chapman, Bernice Parsons, Ethelyn Stanley and Priscilla Chase. Mrs. Harold Fletcher and Mrs. Elmer Cummings carried the party in their automobiles.

Leota Schoff attended the International Sunday school conference at Geneva Point, Maine, Lake Umbagog.

She was awarded the "four letters."

Lena L. Franck of Round Pond has been the guest of Mrs. Harold Fletcher. Miss Franck has been elected to teach English in the junior high school at Springfield, Mass.

The Conant Bros. are canning string beans at their factory in addition to the regular apple canning industry.

Rev. and Mrs. M. V. McAlister and children of Polham, N. H. are guests of Mrs. McAlister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Barrows.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Peverley are home from a two weeks visit at their farm in Mechanic Falls.

Alan C. Miller has been promoted to the office of assistant superintendent with the Community Chautauqua and transferred from the New England to the New York surface.

Mrs. W. S. Chandler and son Ted spent Sunday in Bethel with Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Chandler and family.

Ralph C. Masterman has engaged the furnished room of Mrs. Anna H. Hayes in Alton C. Wheeler's house on Porter street. Mr. and Mrs. Masterman will occupy the room until Spring.

Vernal Edwards is grading the rear of Mrs. Louise J. Briggs' lot on Pine street and will continue the filling until the lawn is made and the job completed.

The hardwood floor in Association Hall has been taken up and relaid. Several lumps in the center were an aggravation to good dancers. No more trouble is anticipated.

The Trumbull Players are booked at Association Hall Friday night to present "Twin Beds."

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Peverley and relatives from Mechanic Falls, motored to Screw Auger Falls Sunday.

John M. Chandler who returned this week from the Boy Scouts Camp at Locke's Mills is spending several days in Bethel with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Chandler.

Ernest Herrick has given up his job at the corn shop where he has been employed since April to accept a place at the Mason Manufacturing Co.

A picnic party made up of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Pierce, and Mrs. Harold Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Roland French, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Butts, Mr. and Mrs. George Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goldsmith and two children were at Trip Pond Sunday.

There will be services at the Baptist church Sunday morning and a stereopticon lecture in the evening.

George McKinley has employed as carpenter and bridge builder on the Grand Trunk. He was home over Sunday and on his way to Berlin, N. H. where the crew are located for a time.

Miss Ruth Marshall of Newburyport, Mass. is visiting Mrs. Sarah Dixon and George Thompson.

Miss Leota Schoff has the distinction of receiving with another young lady, Miss Myrtle Weir of Milo, the only "four letters" at the International Sunday School conference at Geneva Point, Camp Lake Umbagog, showing excellence socially, physically, mentally and religiously. A number of the class received the class button but only the above the "four letters."

More Care— More Life

Remember the old shoes you left out on the back porch—how they got stiff, misshapen and useless.

It's like that with a battery. If you neglect it you'll find that you've left the way open for a whole flock of troubles that shorten battery life.

Your battery doesn't need much attention, but it needs a little—and that regularly. The safe way is to let us care for it according to Willard Standards of Service.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA

The Manila Quartet entertained Thursday afternoon with a vocal and instrumental program. Their numbers comprised native Philippine music and snappy U. S. melodies of the popular variety. Mildred Bello appeared in ballad and classic selections and was pianist. Dotoo Kabayao director and a member of the quintet proved himself a talented violinist and exceedingly skillful in bringing out difficult compositions. The "boys" were received with enthusiasm and responded to numerous encores.

The quartet entertained in the prelude Thursday evening, including a violin, banjo, guitar and piano arrangement, which appealed to the large audience. Miss Bello as mezzo-soprano with Mrs. Williams accompanist was warmly received.

Dr. William Hung's lecture entitled "China in the World's Drama" was a revelation. Acquiring perfect English and capturing degrees from three American Universities he appeared in a unique role. A complete education in China, together with his mastery of English grammar and English literature, places him in a position to speak with authority on international questions, especially those issues bearing directly on the future development of China as a Republic. Dr. Hung is witty and has an original way of driving his remarks to the target. A fine Oriental flavor tinged the pointed illustrations and with comparisons he unfolded the history of China, the inhabitants, economic conditions, and social aspirations. Its past, present and possible future were conditions clearly explained in perfect English, and told so directly and in easy logic that even the Juniors followed the delightful story with close attention. The attendance was seven hundred.

A large audience greeted Mrs. Nancy M. Schoonmaker in her lecture "The Old Road and the New Trail," Friday afternoon. The emancipation of women from shackles forged centuries ago was the foundation of her interesting lecture. The long trail from intellectual bondage and physical slavery to freedom and independence was clearly illustrated in word pictures holding the audience spellbound. Mrs. Schoonmaker toured Europe for comparative study of legislation supported by the newly enfranchised women in the several countries. Dominating men were heavily scored, especially were those of a past generation held up as examples of unbridled selfishness and bigotry. According to the speaker, the woman with the halo is not necessarily a woman without a home. Facts gathered abroad prove the home and community life has been stimulated and enriched since women have broken down the dark age traditions and given equal rights with her former domineering lords.

Members of the Boston Opera Company staged an entertaining Operetta, "Red Riding Hood" to delight the Juniors in the prelude. Red Riding Hood, the grandmother, the fairies and an inquisitive wolf were there with song and dialogue. One little chap in the audience took the wolf seriously and cried, but was made happy at the ending of the story.

One thousand people gathered Friday evening to witness "Mikado" as introduced by members of the Chautauqua Light Opera Co. The famous Gilbert-Sullivan light opera is a production familiar to older theatre patrons, many having traveled to Leviston or Portland before the advent of automobiles to witness professional work. So skillfully had the piece been arranged for Chautauqua purposes, the production was like remodeling the old homestead into a fashionable mansion.

The songs and spoken parts held close to the original English version with many pretty witticisms and allusions to present general and local conditions. Especially was this recognized in the verbal gymnastics of Ko-Ko and in his singing specialty, "They're on My List."

The Opera was given in two parts, scene Ko-Ko's garden in the town of "Hippu, Japan." All costumes were elaborate, the make-ups perfect and stage setting although not extravagant was an effective background to create an atmosphere in keeping with the theme.

Picking the stars in the splendid cast would be unfair and might lay bare the critics' ignorance or conceit. All character makers are stars in their respective roles and display are torches of originality. Naturally certain characteristics appeal more strongly than others no less artistic, and this was evident in the splendid audience. A hearty and generally have a monopoly on the sympathies, while the comedian cares little for this and is content with gales of laughter and applause.

Yum-Yum, as the dainty heroine won the hearts of all in her unfeigned love for "Nankie-Poo." Her two sisters, "Pit-Sing" and "Peep-Bo" were also supporters and the three voices blended perfectly. The trio worked together smoothly.

"Nankie-Poo," the son in disguise, proved a strong character impersonation and easily qualified as the hero in the plot. "Poo-Bah," the chief high striker and official everything in his town was well presented in a serio-humorous impersonation.

"Katisha," an ancient "vamp" in love with the Mikado's son was the real article and regardless as a hungry cat jollying a mouse. Her voice and clever acting was received with genuine appreciation.

The "Mikado" figured in the second part and complicated matters relative to state graft and "inefficiency." His arrival in the little town brought the story of a political "gang," but eventually saved the day for "Nankie-Poo" and "Yum-Yum." The character was well taken.

"Ko-Ko" was a scream. This king of jesters had the Chautauqua patrons with him from the beginning. Laughter developed from a rippling stream into a deluge, as he edged his way into the audience bump of mirth. Several impersonal local jabs were appreciated. That the veteran Covley in this role is a live wire passes with a unanimous vote. His work is bristling with the unexpected and up-to-date. The creators of the opera would turn a flip-flop were they to witness his original antics. Fred Stone, the world-wide fun manufacturer has nothing hanging over Covley. This versatile actor "Ko-Ko" sure had the bunch traveling, and this comment comes with apologies to other artists in the cast.

Community Chautauqua management has furnished us a strong play the past two years on the annual program, but according to general opinion this opera is the best yet and entirely satisfactory in every particular.

Louise Lancaster and Company entertained Saturday afternoon. Miss Lancaster is a pleasing soprano and her best artistic work is done in costumes of the periods in which the songs were composed and developed. Groups of Old English, Dutch and Irish melodies were received with enthusiasm. F. Stanley McCusker, piano accompanist, proved himself an artist. A pleasing feature was a number of operatic selections and marches rendered on xylophone and orchestra bells.

Louise Lancaster and Company gave the prelude Saturday evening before nearly a thousand people. Groups of Indian songs, melodies produced in the early 60's and living today and a number of the best modern selections were rendered in appropriate costume. Mr. McCusker played two piano solos between the prelude and the main part of the evening.

Evelyn Bargelt, noted crayon artist and cartoonist, held the audience spellbound nearly an hour with the program entitled "An Evening in Art." She not only sketches beautifully, but talks as she quickly reproduces many of the best subjects in modern art. Her program never dragged for there was something interesting and instructive in every picture. The little folks were not forgotten and several amusing cartoons scored a hit, even the grown-ups were surprised and appreciated the transformation sketches. Miss Bargelt's stage work differs widely from the average vaudeville novelties in that line outside of chautauqua in the past years. While many simply entertained, she tastefully carried the program beyond external visual to the inner mental and moral faculties. A suggestion for choosing better pictures in the home conveyed an idea well worth serious consideration. There is a psychological reason for displaying to young eyes copies of the great masters, for pictures have a soul placed there through the infinite skill of genius.

During the evening the Junior officials were introduced. Mrs. Williams, the play leader, presented the Mayor of the Junior Chautauqua, Sargent Eaton. He delivered a short speech and in turn introduced his subordinates: Town clerk, Ray Payne; Captain of the Guard, Gerry Locke; Commissioner of Service, Miss Taylor.

Vesper Service
The big brown tent was crowded Sunday evening during the vesper service which commenced at 7 o'clock. The program arranged by the Norway-South Paris Community Chautauqua Association included the clergymen of the several churches in the villages, not on vacations. The pastors occupied seats on the platform and were Rev. John L. Wilson, So. Paris Baptist Church; Rev. T. G. McGlaulin, Deering Memorial Church, South Paris; Rev. T. C. Chapman, Norway Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. E. Martin Grove of Mechanicville, Pa., and Dr. M. A. Brownson, D. D. of Philadelphia, Pa.

After an invocation by Rev. Mr. Chapman, Mrs. Bertha K. Boggett of Lewiston sang "The Lord is My Light" (Al-Ritten). Ruth Cummings, accompanist. Rev. Mr. Wilson read Psalm 139 and Rev. Mr. McGlaulin offered prayer. Mrs. B. McGlaulin offered another solo, "Hold Thou My Hand" (Mrs. Cora S. Briggs). Ruth Cummings, accompanist, with Marion Haskell, violinist. Several announcements by Supt. Grove followed and the free will offering taken. Miss Haskell played a beautiful violin offertory. Battle hymn of the Republic was sung by the congregation.

The sermon by Doctor Brownson from the text "If I take the wings of the Morning" was a plain heart-to-heart talk about God and his son Jesus Christ. God is everywhere in a scriptural, a scientific and logical fact emphasized by the clergyman and cannot be denied by any thinking being. Doctor Brownson's experience with men show they crave more knowledge of God as revealed in nature and in the scriptures. Honeys words and cold ethical philosophy are not satisfying. The weary soul in this restless generation is crying for Christian fundamentals and a soul satisfaction from contact with a Father who knows and cares. The discourse was logical, forceful and a direct appeal for a deeper understanding of God in his just dealings with humanity.

The noted clergyman was introduced by the Chautauqua superintendent, Rev. C. M. Grove on suggestion of the local pastors, as both have parishes in the same state and the circumstances bringing the Pennsylvanians together unusual and timely.

The services closed with the congregation singing America, and the benediction by Rev. Mr. McGlaulin.

TAXATION AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

Newburyport tax rate is $31 on $1,000, only a little over one-half what it is in Norway village. How long will the people here stand this excessive tax burden?—A Citizen.

"It is about time that our national officials, executive and legislative, appreciated that the unions are but a small percentage of the people of this country and begin to consider the rest of us.  It is time for the great majority of the people to demand their rights. They need no more government bureaus covering the entire country. They want no more compromises with those who would stop industry and starve the people. What we need are laws applicable to everybody, with no exception in favor of a class. What we need is less submission to Gompers, Jewell and Lewis and more consideration of 110,000,000 people."—Boston Herald.

That is good stuff and it ought to sink deep into every dull brain in Washington and throughout the land. That's what we have been shouting for months. Let the scoundrels who would destroy life and property to make their strikes effective be treated to large doses of cold lead and striking would cease. Free labor, free men, free shops and lower taxes and cost of living.—Comment.

J. P. Morgan, the great New York banker has recently come out with a statement that this government should donate the debts owing us from foreign nations, which would place this great sum, mounting into billions of dollars as an additional burden upon the American people. It is all very fine for the plutocrats have the government strike off the surtaxes of the billionaires like Morgan as this Congress has done and load additional burden in high tariffs upon the poorer classes, but unless we are greatly at fault, the people won't stand for measures which favor the Morgans and their like at their expense. These moneyed gentry as a matter of business would favor, of course, wiping off all debts against foreign nations. Then, they could step in and lend them what they need to put them on their feet at big rake offs with the U. S. guaranteeing payment. What a fine set of patriots they are, and how their hearts bleed for the masses of the people.—Comment.

I see that a corporation meeting is called for next Tuesday to put through schemes that the people cannot afford till debts are paid up. The rate of taxation is twice here now what it should be. People should turn out and vote the whole business down with such a majority that it would put a stop to further placing the village corporation in additional debt till present debt is paid. And another thing, this calling all through the year of special meetings to raise money for all kinds of schemes should be put a stop to by the Legislature if those to whom we look to manage affairs are so inert as to prevent it. The time to make appropriations is at the annual elections, then people should make definite calculations as to their outlays and expenses for the year.—A Citizen.

This is sound sense as well as good business.—Comment.

It is as certain as anything can well be prognosticated, that if the coal and railroad strikes are settled by increasing the price of coal to the people or leaving it as it is and in increasing freight rates that it will not be satisfactory to the consumers. Wages must fall, rates must down, producers must stop their skinning and normal conditions which were promised in 1920 must be restored.—Comment.

It is said by a certain class of people that certain interests must be "protected," but what are they which actually need protection? We have favored this policy in the past but conditions have changed. The masses of the people—the poorer classes, need to be protected from the profiteers. A low tariff will do the business. It will lower the high cost of living and restore normal conditions.—Comment.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Resolutions on the death of Sister Elizabeth Pike.
Whereas, the Supreme Ruler of the Universe has again reminded us of the brevity and uncertainty of life, by taking from our little Grange our dearly beloved sister and worthy lecturer Elizabeth V. Pike;

Resolved, that while we mourn for the departed, we cherish recollections of the good cheer and kindly words of our dear sister, while faithfully performing her duties; which make it very fitting that we record our appreciation of her; therefore, be it resolved, that there is no better way of showing our respect than by being better Grangers and helping carry out the work she was so devoted to. Also be it resolved that by the death of Sister Pike our Grange has lost an excellent officer, every member a dear friend, and the community a useful citizen.
And be it further resolved that a page of our records be reserved and these resolutions spread thereon and copies sent to her relatives and the Norway Advertiser.

Samuel Fogg received painful injuries when the horse Mr. Fogg was driving on Lynn street, Monday, jumped suddenly to one side, throwing both men out of the wagon. A broken bit is said to have caused the driver to lose control of the horse when he ran. The frightened animal attached to the wagon plunged through the wooden rail on Beal street and down an embankment. Mr. Fogg was treated at the office of Dr. I. W. Staples where a cut on the head and a bone in the leg badly bruised were the most serious injuries discovered.

Robert Sault, Dartmouth, 01, director of music in the schools at Lawrence, Mass., and Agnes Driscoll, superintendent of art in the same schools have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Z. L. Merchant. They were on a trip to Vermont to visit Mr. Sault's boyhood home.

Mrs. Alice Parent and Cathleen McCarthy of Holyoke, Mass., who have been visiting their brother Frank McCarthy and wife at Wassess Cottage left Wednesday for a visit at Old Orchard, Hampton Beach and York Beach. Mrs. Parent handled two black bass from Lake Umbagog, and Mr. McCarthy a red perch and a pound and three quarters. Both visitors liked Norway and plan to return next summer.

Miss Ella Burdett of Lynn, Mass. is visiting her sister Mrs. Z. L. Merchant.

Drawings for the two baseball tournaments have given the morning games at Lewiston, Aug. 12 to August and the afternoon games at Lewiston, Aug. 13 to August and the afternoon games at Lewiston, Aug. 14 to August.

Positions for the tournament at Oxford County Fair grounds, Aug. 19, are Augusta and Dixfield in the morning, Twin Towns and Taxis in the afternoon. Winners on both occasions will fight in a third card each afternoon for tournament championship.

Don't be fooled with believing that the Motor Truck and Pump won't freeze and will cost little or nothing to maintain. That talk comes from the man who is selling it. Where are you to store it? Larry Carroll can't keep the whole town from a freeze up. Use sense and a little reason and don't ask him to do it.

Will Bicknell and Fred Sanborn agree in saying if the abuttor of the proposed sewer are willing to pay the abutment taxes the same as the others have or possibly a little less they will not oppose the project at the coming corporation meeting next Tuesday evening, but both seriously question the size of the figures made by Mr. Litchfield. The figures ($6000) are simply a guess.

A. C. Barker, superintendent of the local district of the Central Maine Power Co. has resigned and Wallace A. Fox takes his place. The district comprises Norway, South Paris, West Paris, Oxford, Mechanic Falls, Poland, West Poland, Hebron and Minot. The new superintendent will locate in Norway.

The beauties of Mr. Kearsarge were enjoyed Sunday by a party of Norway people including, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Monk and friend Miss Hall, Prof. George A. Yeaton, George Noyes, Della Noyes, Edith Smith, Gertrude Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brooks and daughter Doris.

The Jurors for Norway drawn Thursday morning for the October term of court were: Percy W. Russell, Grand Juror, and Howard A. Knightly, Victor M. Whitman and Harry A. Spiller for traverse Jurors.

Unique Double Shower

The Heywood Club House on Crockett Ridge was the scene of a most unique affair Tuesday of this week. The ladies of the Club treated a shower to their youngest member, Miss Ethel Noble, who is to leave Norway the last of this month and go by way of Gov. Transport from Phila. the first of Sept. to Cavite, Manila. Her fiancé Ernest Alexander of the U. S. S. T. stationed there together with his Superior Officer and wife will go aboard the Transport and the wedding will take place before they dock. So it was very appropriate that the white table decorated with ferns and golden rod should have a long grey submarine riding at one end. The American flag floated fore and aft while the periscope stood a miniature sailor in full dress of white with hand outstretched to greet the prospective bride. Within the ship and floating all about it were mysterious packages from the many friends and guests.

Master Fred Bradlee of New York City, visiting his aunt at Green Elm, wore a white full dress sailor costume and met his future new auntie at the Club House door and saluting her escorted her to the Sub, with big black letters "v" on its side. She was overwhelmed with surprise and had been invited to the Club House "had been party for Miss Holgate" of Lewiston who taught her for 5 years at the school and has been visiting here with old friends for a few weeks. The song of the "Love Note" came from a victrola hidden among the ferns followed by "I think I'll get Wed in the Summer Time" sung by Harry Lauder. For its always summer in Manila and a cute little bungalow all furnished awaits her coming there.

The Misses Junetta Dinsmore, Olive Dinsmore, Winona Young, Floretta and Elvina Jackson of Norway and Eleanor Louie Bradlee of New York City served punch and sweet cakes from tables covered with ferns and goldenrod while the same decorations backed the walls and white streamers hung with tiny wedding bells festooned the entire room.

Centre lights to all windows, doors and corners. It was a perfect boyer of daintiness and the camera was in evidence during the festivity.

Miss Rose Noble, sister of the bride to be, came to join in the fun, when much to her own surprise her little brother Orin dressed in white chauffeurs costume with brass buttons led her to the other end of the long table where a good sized red auto with Buick name plate and correct numbers front and rear stood just waiting for a new washing.

Hand and frequent flashes of the red car on moonlight nights and summer days with Roe "near" the wheel led her friends to include her in the shower and make it a double one that Ethel might enjoy it with her as later on she would enjoy it with the bride and Miss Ethel.

The packages on being opened by the two sisters disclosed a full array of silver, china, glass, Pyrex, linen, hand embroidery, hand painted china, luncheon sets of Peble cloth and hand decorated lingerie pin sets, clock and jewel case of ivory finish.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dunham, veteran snow shoe maker and grandparents of the girls were guests of honor. Others present were Mesdames Reginald Dinsmore, Fannie Dinsmore, Eleanor Buck, Arthur Buck, William Young, Spaulding Abbott, Levi Richardson, Fred Noble, Addie Thurston, William Glover, Marion Jackson and the Misses Ruth Holgate, Myra Noble, Cherry Noble, Floretta, Lona and Pearl Noble, Ada Glover, Clara Morse, Dorothy Vincent, Vivian Horro, Dorothy and Elsie Richardson of Norway.

Mrs. J. E. Bradlee of New York City, Mrs. Mary Pottier of Lakeside sent beautiful gifts of silver and some money lay among the gifts.

Mark Smith is at the Boy Scouts' Camp at Locke's Mills and enjoys the life. He has qualified as life guard on Dudley Lake and training for the numerous athletic events scheduled for their field day on August 17.

Three traffic officers will be on duty Dollar Day, August 12. They will be stationed on dangerous corners along Main street.

Harold Thomas and Frank Loud have returned from a long motorcycle journey to Vermont and other states. Harold drove the machine and Frank watched the scenery from the side car. Washburn delayed the party and they were some days late reaching home.

Charles Bugles attended the ball game at Sherbrooke, P. Q. Sunday and remained to visit a relative who is proprietor of a hotel there.

Howard B. Young and his helpers went Bryant's Pond Monday, and wired a new house being built by Alton C. Bacon. They have recently wired the houses of Miss Bissell at Paris Hill, the tenement Conant house, Amos Bird's house and the new bungalow of Mrs. Louise J. Briggs on Pine street, stalled a signal bell system at the Roger Davis new store and are fitting up the new A. & P. Store in the new Odd Fellows' Block in South Paris. In Norway they are working on the new two story house being built by George Dunn. The Austin house recently purchased by Mrs. Victor Blanchard, the Jackson Clark house on P. W. Sanborn, both of which are being remodeled, with work for the Norway Water Co. and other small jobs for the town have kept Howard and his two electricians on the jump.

Fred L. Harriman has sold his house on Winter street to William G. Glover who recently sold his home at Norway Lake to J. C. P. Stone. Mr. Harriman is looking for another house where the tax rate is not so big.

May Thibodeau of Boston is at home for her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. King and daughter Gladys of Taunton, Mass., are visiting Mrs. King's relatives in this vicinity. Mrs. King's will be remembered as Evelyn Partridge. Mr. King is combining business with pleasure on the trip. He is a traveling salesman.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradbury are spending the month of August in Birchfield.

Guests of Percy H. Nevers, Jr. the past week were Ralph and Robert Ross, Mann Heslop, Emmett McNamara, and David Ross from Johnstown, Pa. They made the trip by auto, coming through Canada, and seeing the sights at Montreal and Quebec. While in Norway they have taken several delightful trips and climbed Mount Washington, Sunday, as one of the pleasant experiences. They left Monday and will go back by way of New York stopping over night at Old Orchard. They carry all camping conveniences.

Chautauqua

fancy cookies, ice cream and cake, doughnuts, crullers and hot coffee were served by Louise Powers, Rosie Merrill, Gordon Powers and Thomas Clegg. Those who wished danced to victrola music and all enjoyed Mr. Bowker's hospitality.

Chautauqua Notes
Michias is the next stand for this outfit. Fairfield and Fort Fairfield will follow.

Opening night the attendance was 750. The Mikado on Friday night drew the big house with 960 seated and many standing around the side walls. Automobiles parked on the grounds that evening totaled 101. Friday night 164, single admissions were paid. Tuesday night 114 cars were handled by the traffic of ficals.

The grounds have been well policed with no accidents. Sheriff H. D. Cole, Deputy H. O. Stinson and officers Ernest Shaw, Ed. Barker, Horace Kimball, A. L. McAlister, Cashier J. G. Scott handled the crowds and automobiles. Many recognized Daniel Ross in the role of "Poo-Bah" of the Mikado as "Jim" the tentman in Polly of the Circus, presented on the Chautauqua platform in 1920.

Walter Waybright and J. G. Scott who handled the canvas had a merry time during the rain Monday night. Ropes tightened and threatened to pull up stakes and the wind sneaked around the sidewalks trying to creep under and lift things.

This has been the wettest Chautauqua week since the beginning seven years ago. Generally the advent of the brown tent has brought drought and high temperature. One has suggested the cause, changing the dates.

Harry Kimball and Eugene N. Swett officiated in the ticket office and handled all cash during the week. Cashier J. G. Scott was relieved of this duty and expressed himself as more than satisfied with the unusual vacation. This is one of his duties in connection with Chautauqua in other towns.

Bertha Stacey director of the Fadettes and a member since the organization in 1890 is a bicycle enthusiast. She carries a wheel on the route and rides between jumps when roads are suitable. Her longest trip was from Grand Rapids, Mich. to New York City, this was made when there was time to spare with no one day stands booked.

The Fadettes drew an audience of 750 Tuesday afternoon, the largest matinee attendance in the course and equals the first night crowd.

Attendance Sunday evening is set at 900, collection $68.07. An average of seven and half cents a seat for a splendid sermon and excellent music. Nothing strange about churches resorting to fairs and suppers to offset an empty contribution box.

On a motion of Rev. C. G. Miller at the meeting of the contract signers Tuesday evening Sept. 19, 1922, the signers of the successful management of the season's Chautauqua here. Expression was unanimous for his return next year.

Frank Faunce is in charge of business at the W. C. Leavitt Co. while Mr. Leavitt is spending a short vacation with Mrs. Leavitt at her home in Colebrook, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver J. Foss leave Monday for a vacation in Locke's Mills, Williston, Lees and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. "Happy" Richardson of New York City are spending a vacation here this week. Mr. Richardson is a member of the Masury party at the lake and Mrs. Richardson is located at Beals Tavern.

Mrs. E. A. Corner of Waltham, Mass., and Mrs. P. A. Jordan of Herkimer, N. Y., are visiting their sister, Mrs. Sadie Gammon, Beal Street.

Methodist Church Notes
The Thursday evening, August 10, the mid week service of prayer and worship will be led by O. L. Stone.

The Sunday school meets at 9:45 next Sunday morning. The summer attendance has been good in the primary department.

Rev. H. F. Aldrich of West Paris will preach next Sunday at morning worship. In the evening the Epworth League will have the usual devotional service at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Esther Sikkings will be the leader. Topic, "Savonarola, the Firebrand of Florence." Acts 2:1-21. The evening preaching service will be omitted.

The Camp Meeting at Empire Grove opens next Saturday, August 12th and continues over two Sundays. Dr. Holt has arranged an exceptionally strong program, and all who attend for a single day or for the week are sure to find some thing of special interest and helpfulness. There will be no service in this church on the Thursday evening of Camp Meeting week, nor on the closing Sunday, August 20th.

The pastor is at Kent's Hill the present week and from there will go to Empire Grove for the camp meeting session.

Millville and Crockett Ridge
The recent heavy rains caught lots of nice hay out in the fields ready for the barn.

Miss Ruth Holgate of Lewiston is visiting old friends in town. She is stopping at present with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Millett and attended Chautauqua.

Mrs. Cleve Kneeland and two children of Salem have been visiting at F. O. Lovejoy's.

Doris Bradlee is visiting relatives in Massachusetts.

Lillian Westleigh of West Bethel is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Westleigh.

Mrs. Mary Francis who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Spaulding Abbott, has returned home.

There are several guests at the Thurston farm. Peter O'Brien and family, who have been spending their vacation at the Chase farm have returned home to Lewiston and Prof. J. M. Carroll and family of Bates College are expected soon to occupy the Chase house for a few weeks.

Bert Jackson has purchased a new Durant five passenger automobile. Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dinsmore of Bethel were in the neighborhood last week calling on old friends.

NEBULAE

A nebula is a faint cloud of light. Nebulae are situated in the physical "great beyond." Vast as the galactic system is and while a few of the nebulae are contained within it, almost all of them dwell outside it.

Only about half a dozen of nebulae are visible to the naked eye. They are usually disappointing objects with a small telescope, appearing as small patches of faint light. A 12" aperture is necessary to show much detail. With a persistent exposure for hours, a photographic plate through a 60" or 5 foot telescope reveals objects to about the twentieth magnitude, but with the hundred inch Hooker reflecting telescope (largest in the world), objects of the twenty-first magnitude are shown, which is the limit in distance of known objects, not much advance over the twentieth magnitude it would seem, but more than 350 millions of suns are added to the number contained within the twentieth magnitude limit.

From the average of actual count on a large number of photographic plates, the number of known nebulae is estimated to be 722,000, which are unevenly divided throughout the great zone.

The light from six millions of stars of the 21st magnitude is required to equal that of one star of the 4th magnitude.

There are three types of nebulae; Extended: those like a cloud and unsymmetrical in form, but one form. The Trifid Nebula in Sagittarius, much resembles the petals of a phlox flower, showing dark lanes between and star streams surrounding the whole. Planetary, which has a nucleus with varied forms of rings surrounding it, similar to Saturn and its rings. The largest planetary nebula, 7,720, has a diameter of 10,000 astronomical units. The smallest planetary nebula, 1,350 units, (diameter of Neptune's orbit is 60 astronomical units). Herschel's list of planetary or nucleus stars was 18, the number now known is approximately 100.

Spiral nebulae, which apparently once was a cloudlike form, thin and circular, occupying a plane, but by its rotary motion, seems to have broken up into curving arms, in pairs arranged opposite each other, two or more principal ones, with smaller branches radiating out in curves, often times, portions being invisible, in appearance like that of sawdust in a mill pond, as it takes form when embraced in a whirlpool. As far as known most of the nebulae are of the spiral form or type. Spiral nebulae seem to abhor the galactic plane and are in a rushing motion from it while the star clusters are hastening toward it.

Four spiral nebulae indicate a rotation in years of time, as follows; Messier 51, 45,000; M. 81, 58,000; M. 101, 85,000; M. 33, 160,000 years.

Spirals appear to be at great distances from our galactic system, while some of the gaseous nebulae belong to it. A spiral known as 4,594 (New General Catalog), is of the highest speed of translation of any celestial object, 1,180 kilometers a second or 737 miles. This velocity is equivalent to a parsec or 3 1/2 light years in a million years of time, according to Harlow Shapley and therefore is the swiftest known object in creation. The greatest velocity of star clusters is 1-3 and isolated stars 1-2 of this.

According to E. E. Barnard there are 175 dark or opaque nebulae. These seem to be regions that obscure or blot out objects beyond and at one time these regions were supposed to be void of stars, one of them in the south celestial hemisphere was named "the coal pocket."

The nebula Andromeda is the brightest and probably the nearest of the spirals (J. C. Dean). From the June number, 1922 of the Astrophysical Journal, an estimate indicates that the Andromeda nebula is a stella universe comparable to our own galaxy and the distance away is 450,000 parsecs, or nearly 1 1/2 millions light years.

What appears to resemble nebulae are two patches of light, known as "Magellanic clouds." There are only two in number; one is situated quite near the south pole of the heavens. The other is in the Northern Hemisphere near the Milky Way. They appear to the naked eye as real clouds, but are condensations of stars whose physical features are very similar to the stars of our galaxy, although not a part of it.

John Herschel counted 286 nebulae in the larger cloud and a lesser number in the smaller. Some apparent nebulae prove to be star clusters when observed with high power telescopes and in connection with photography.

The spectograph reveals the elements which compose nebulae, to be gases of high temperature, probably seething and with internal movement. Hydrogen, Helium and Nebulium. Helium gas was discovered in the sun long before it was identified in the laboratory, and is now used to inflate balloons, because it is inflammable and nearly as buoyant as hydrogen gas.

Nebulium gas still defies the physicist but its presence in the nebulae is proved by the bright lines in the green part of the spectrum and a few of the nebulae are for this reason called "green nebulae."

The early investigator Wm. Herschel believed that the process of making stars from nebulae was before our very eyes by the many varied conditions in which nebulae are found. Applying this logic, "no one has ever seen the growth of a very large tree in the forest but by finding different stages of growth, we may easily believe in their development."

Nebulae are believed to be vast universes comparable to our own and such small spaces which they occupy, indicate that they must be in almost infinite deep reaches of distance away.

LIGHTNING ROD BONUS

Insurance Commissioner G. Waldon Smith recently sent out a letter of warning to the various lightning rod manufacturers against promising rewards or bonus certificates of monies to be paid in the event of buildings being destroyed by lightning. This is aside from the immunity which the companies are obliged to give and under which they are bonded by the department as a part of the qualification for authorization.

Commissioner Smith declared that the competitive issue has grown to such proportions that he had to cry a halt, and has insisted that hereafter all such offers be withdrawn, the ruling is to be made effective as of August first. The violation of this order will involve revocation of license to transact business in this State.

When there is a black sheep in a family, Father is the goat.

BATES—WEST PARIS

The public library has added 15 new books recently. They are as follows:

"Peggy Gold" by Zane Gray.

"Up" by Clarence Mulford.

"Lamp in the Desert" by Ethel M. Dell.

"Cloudy Jewel" by Grace Livingstone.

"The Hunted Woman" by James Oliver Curwood.

"Seed of the Sun" by Wallace Irwin.

"The Mistress of Shenstone" by Florence L. Barclay.

"The Long Chance" by Peter B. Kyne.

"The Following of the Star" by Florence L. Barclay.

"The Lobstick Trail" by Douglas Durkin.

"My Unknown Clam" by Henry Garrity.

"The Little Minister" by James Matthew Barrie.

"Blood Tide" by Sara Ware Bassitt.

"Praising Dale, Pioneer" by John Fox, Jr.

"Creative Chemistry" by Edwin E. Slosson.

Our public library has a good variety of books of fiction and reference and information and a good lot of them. It is open for the public, Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock and Saturday afternoon the same and in the evening from 7 to 9.

Everything else has its sign board, why not the Public Library, so that visitors and strangers passing through might see that our village possessed a library as well as other places of business and public welfare.

Mr. and Mrs. George Devine are entertaining Mr. Devine's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Culliver from Salem, Mass.

Rev. H. F. Aldrich is going to exchange with Rev. D. L. Joslin of Norway next Sunday and in the evening he will preach at Empire Camp Meeting.

Thursday afternoon was observed as Mothers' and Daughters' Day by the W. C. T. U. Several from the Norway union were expected, but were not able to come. A good program was enjoyed. The meeting was held on Mrs. L. C. Bates' lawn, a goodly number were present. Alice E. Barden sang a solo and other hymns were enjoyed. There were appropriate readings with discussions, also a question box which was very interesting. Refreshments of ice cream and saltines were served by the hostess.

The Federated Sunday School will unite with the Sunday School of North Paris in a general picnic, August 19 at Bryant's Pond. A good time is expected.

Mrs. Harold C. Perham and infant daughter have returned home from Portland. Her mother, Mrs. Williams accompanied her and stayed a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wardwell and family were visiting her people in Buckfield last week.

Agnes Gray has purchased a lot on Round Pond next to E. J. Mann's and is going to have a camp built on it.

Mrs. Fletcher Scribner is some better at this writing.

Gene Edwards is staying at the so called Levi Edwards place.

Walter Jordan and wife called Sunday on Howard Ames and family and also called on their children, Doris Jordan and Louise Jordan.

Mrs. Callie Lunt has gone to visit her brother, Ben Jones of Naples.

True Winslow is doing finely. We all hope he will be on the gain now.

Victor Lord is visiting at Will Jillson's.

E. B. Jillson has sold his grass to Fred Brooks.

TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS

How would the boys and girls who read the Advertiser like to have some letters and stories printed for them? Now, if you would like to read letters from other boys and girls, you get your paper, or do it all yourself and write a nice letter to the Advertiser. Others will do the same and in a little while you will have a lot of boys and girls writing regularly for the Advertiser.

You all have a lot of things to write about—tell what you are doing and like to do, where you have been and what you saw—describe it just as nicely as you can and the other boys and girls, and perhaps some of the older boys and girls will like to read it too.

You can tell us about your home, where you live and about your pets, your garden and a thousand and one things that you are interested in, including your games, books, etc.

There will be picnics, parties, etc. and think of the nice times you will have—you want to remember all about it and write a nice letter to the Advertiser for the Boys and Girls Column. Address your letter to Norway, Advertiser, Norway, Maine and be sure and write your name and address on your letter. Who will be the first one?

"I WANT THE ADVERTISER"

Summer guest: "I want to subscribe to the Norway Advertiser so to keep in touch with the people in this section during the winter months."

One fifty was paid and his name added to our list and the paper will be sent to his address in the big city and we trust he will find pleasure in the paper during the coming months.

Are there not other summer guests in Oxford County who want to take the paper for the same reason? It will be a pleasure to you to sit down some cold winter night in your cozy home and read about your friends down here in snow-clad Maine. It will bring to mind pleasant summer days spent among the hills and lakes and the friends you've made. Better subscribe!

BOY SCOUTS' CAMP

This is the third week of the Oxford County Council Boy Scouts Camp at Locke's Mills. Some fifty scouts were under the canvas last week and busy with the duties about camp. The boys are well and the Director of the Commissary, Chas. Leonard passes across chow in abundance. Each scout has all the milk he can absorb and hearty food is the rule. Sweets are given sparingly, but the stores at Locke's Mills are collecting spare pennies for a sweet tooth filler.

Initiating recruits is harmless fun carried on in a mild form. Simple pranks worked by those longer in the service are conferred to make the late arrivals full fledged members of the Camp Society.

Swimming and boating are still head liners. A new wharf has been built on the shore of Dudley Lake so the boys are excused from wading through mud for the daily plunge. Every boy is given a try-out in the water. Experienced swimmers are marked with a green cap and called life guards. Others are graded and spotted with different colors according to ability and endurance; a red cap denotes a beginner and the green caps can be seen bobbing among them like subchasers protecting a defenseless steamer.

Throwing the javelin, putting the shot, baseball and other sports have their place at an appointed time. Hiking is encouraged and the boys frequently ride on shank's mare to Locke's Mills village for pleasure and refreshments. One evening the bunch attended a slight of hand performance, on another occasion they witnessed the movies. Sunday morning the scouts attended services in the Methodist chapel while the Catholics were conveyed to Rumford.

Director Harold C. Perham observes strict discipline, willful disobedience means a trip home. Assistant Leslie Ferguson, Carlton Andrews and Athletic Director Ronald Perham have the scouts well in hand and this association is mutually agreeable. All regulation are carried out under the supervision of the directors of the Council, so each boy has a square deal. It is squarely up to the boy to play fair and become a "good scout."

Good sportsmanship is the key note and selfishness given a solar plexus blow.

Plans are underway to use the farm house for winter camping. Fifty boys can be accommodated at one time. With stoves and blankets the place would prove ideal headquarters for week ends or longer stays, when skiing, snowshoeing and skating might be greatly enjoyed under proper supervision. Here is an opportunity for the public spirited philanthropist to so act that future citizens of Oxford County now in the mould will call his name blessed.

PERSONAL NEAR HOME JOURNEY

Since returning from the last fishing trip July 28th, the car wheels have been kept in almost constant motion. Making up for last time as it were! Meredith Center, N. H., Bell Hill in Otisfield and East Stoneham have been visited as well as Bethel, Newry and Ketchum and a side trip to Summit Spring and the Shakers'. The price of gasoline having dropped, travel is less expensive. Hotel rates are all the traffic will bear and something more.

John C. Shepard, son and family camps and cottages by the lakeside and on Crockett's Ridge have been looked over. John was there having a short vacation from his Auburn shoe factory as well as a hydroplane. I turned down an invitation to take a spin the air. Not any of that for me! I stay pretty close to the earth since the 19th constitutional amendment was adopted. Not any air-journeys for me now.

You don't realize what Mr. Shepard has been doing at Freeman's Point, not unless you look it over and then you will be surprised. A half dozen and more cozy camps with open fires, electric lights and running water in a well kept cedar grove. Prettiest water front and landscape scenery of the whole lake is here. You can drive to it in any size car you are able to own and have the car housed. There are walks, trails, boating and bathing as well as dancing at "the Barn" with a nine hole golf link in the near future.

John plans to build a home for his old age where the farm buildings were burned some years ago and has got the barn up and is using it as a dance pavilion this summer. The cellar for the house is already for the building when he gets to it. Possibly he will build next season. He is not just certain.

The Shakers erect one plain granite monument in their burying ground. That's all that is visible to the passer-by. This is their custom. It's modest and substantial. They have good things and invite you to call at their store. I am speaking of the New Gloucester family where we called the other day. "Mother" bought a $3.00 dress that struck her fancy and my sister got an apron and I was told that they would take my check for a $26.00 cloak and an $18.00 hand knit sweater. I thought I'd made a good impression on the sister in the store and was filling up with pride when she said, "I took a $70.00 check from a stranger this morning and I'd be glad to use you the same." I surmise it's their custom and I doubt if they get bad checks, however, you can't tell, they are quiet people and don't make a great noise over their troubles.

Mrs. D. C. Seitz of the Summit Spring Hotel in Harrison was found working in the corn field; pulling weeds, I think, or possibly looking for corn borers or woodchucks or something of that sort. She showed us to the Spring and bid us drink. This is a wonderful flow of pure water in a large volume.

The farm crops are good, considering the wet weather and many of the flowers are in full bloom and are beautiful. Mr. Anderson and wife have charge of the farm and are taking great pride in it.

They have some twenty summer guests and could accommodate about as many more.

Mrs. Seitz promised to furnish a complete list with inscription of those buried in graveyard at their place. If it comes to hand it will be published later on.

The view from Bell Hill meeting house, Otisfield, is far reaching. I got into the belfry and looked over the country. Many have been there before me judging from the inscription on the walls. The church organization has been lost and the property is cared for by two or three interested people. Usually one or more services are held each season and contributions are collected to be expended on repairs. The church keys are kept by Mrs. C. C. Foster, who lives in the summer months nearly opposite it. The house, excepting falling plaster and broken window glass is in good condition. Preparations are being made to shingle the roof. It is the intention to preserve the property as it was originally. Those who borrow the key to look it over are expected to make a contribution to the repair fund.

If you get lost in some portions of Otisfield a knowledge of the Finn language will be a great assistance. I wanted to visit the grave of Prof. Joseph W. Holden, the local geographer and astronomer and see the mill pond that proved the earth to be flat, but failed, owing to the unknown language of the inhabitants.

E. L. Gay on the Harrison side of Bolster's Mills, says he has a dozen young black foxes on his fox farm. A little later we expect to see them.

A. R. Clark of Florida and Maine is at present stopping at his Bolster's Mills home. I called and saw the grandchild and hired girl. Mr. Clark was fishing on Crooked River and the women folks were at Norway attending the chautauqua.

Mrs. Hazel Strout and three sons visited Mrs. Earle Trévoray Thursday.

Rupert Berry was with his family at O. L. Peabody's one night last week.

Elroy Dean and Forest Thomas were in Lewiston recently.

Mrs. Rupert Berry and Mrs. C. R. Briggs attended the Eastern Star Picnic at Locke's Mills Wednesday.

Mrs. E. B. Jackson and son Nolan of Norway visited her mother, Mrs. Emma Berry one day last week.

Raymond Dean is spending a week with the Boy Scouts at Locke's Mills.

O. L. Peabody and family, Rupert Berry and family and Henry Briggs were at Lake Tripp, Sunday.

A subscriber: "The Norway Advertiser is a fine family paper. It doesn't contain all the world topics of the day, and we don't want them. It is a paper for the whole county, it reads just like the family letter and makes us feel just like one big family and we spend a whole evening enjoying it. In many towns I don't know anybody, but have read of the doings of the different ones until I feel acquainted with people and I enjoy knowing what these people do."

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Twin Towns 1; Star Taxis 0

Air tight baseball was the rule at Oxford County fair ground Thursday afternoon when Twin Town with "Lefty" Canavan on the mound, blanked the Lewiston Star Taxis featuring Bill Buckland a famous southpaw. The largest crowd for the season witnessed the scrap which was held in conjunction with Oxford County Agricultural Society's August races.

Both teams buckled down to live baseball with everything sent into the fields gobbled up with lightning speed. Canavan shaded Buckland in his performances allowing only three scattered singles. The Lewiston artist escaped with nine smashed against his delivery. Only in the fourth could the Twins group hits for anything like run making.

White and Canavan led the two town aggregation in batting. White landed a 50-50 mark with four chances and Canavan made perfect connections on three times up. Kenney, the utility player, working in George Keville's position, lifted a rangey fly which picked a safe spot in the outfield and scored the only mark in the game. The score:

August Races Great Event
The special races staged by the Oxford County Agricultural Society on their grounds between Norway and South Paris, Thursday, attracted a crowd and brought together a collection of speedy horses, groomed for the circuit of fall fairs.

Norway-Paris band opened the program at 1 o'clock. The crowd gathered around the course or found shelter from the boiling sun in the grand stand. Another throng edged to the sidelines about the diamond where the Twin Towns and the Lewiston Taxis battled for a decision, the Twins winning with a 1-0 mark.

Three races were put on with a good field in each event. Bob Waite, veteran reinsman of Lewiston, fell into a smash and had spill during the first heat of the 222 class. The sulky which was crushed and Waite with one foot caught in the reins was dragged a hundred feet and more. He drove six heats after the accident. This thriller proved the big attraction for the afternoon. Dick Cable, responsible for the excitement, was caught in fifth place at the end of the first heat, but drawn after the third session.

Twin Towns 10; Gardiner 5
Not much of a home game was played at the fair grounds. The crowd waited patiently some two hours after scheduled time for the visitors and extracted not a little amusement from the affair at the expense of many players.

The Gardiner team was outclassed a mile or more, and this was evident in the first inning. Benson mowed 'em down in regular order until easing up was decided the best method if the strugglers were to have a chance. Hunt officiated after the fifth inning and just worked easy like to give the fans something to ease over. The Gardiner chaps found the ball and gave the Twin Town fielders a merry time. Careless playing with chance throwing, paved the way for the visitors to reduce the Twins lead and excite the crowd.

Both teams went against considerable jostling and the game for a long suffering side was turned into a fun fest. The Twin sluggers hit hard and found little difficulty scoring runs. Some of the visitors fielded sharply whenever the ball came within reach and frequently put across lively stuff. Gardiner's infield proved the strongest department on the team with exceptional work at second and third. Harrington who was picked from the crowd to hurl for Gardiner wasn't in trim and merely tossed a dope ball for the Twins to bite at with some success. Fuller, Wolf and Keville tore the heavy stick workers while Masterman was good for a two seaker in the sixth. Altogether the game was farcical. Summary: Twin Towns: Hits 11, two base hits, Masterman, Fuller, Wolf 3. Errors 2. Hits off Benson 3, off Hunt 7, struck out by Benson 12, by Hunt 5. Gardiner: Hits 5, Errors 1. Struck out by Harrington 1. Bases on balls 6.

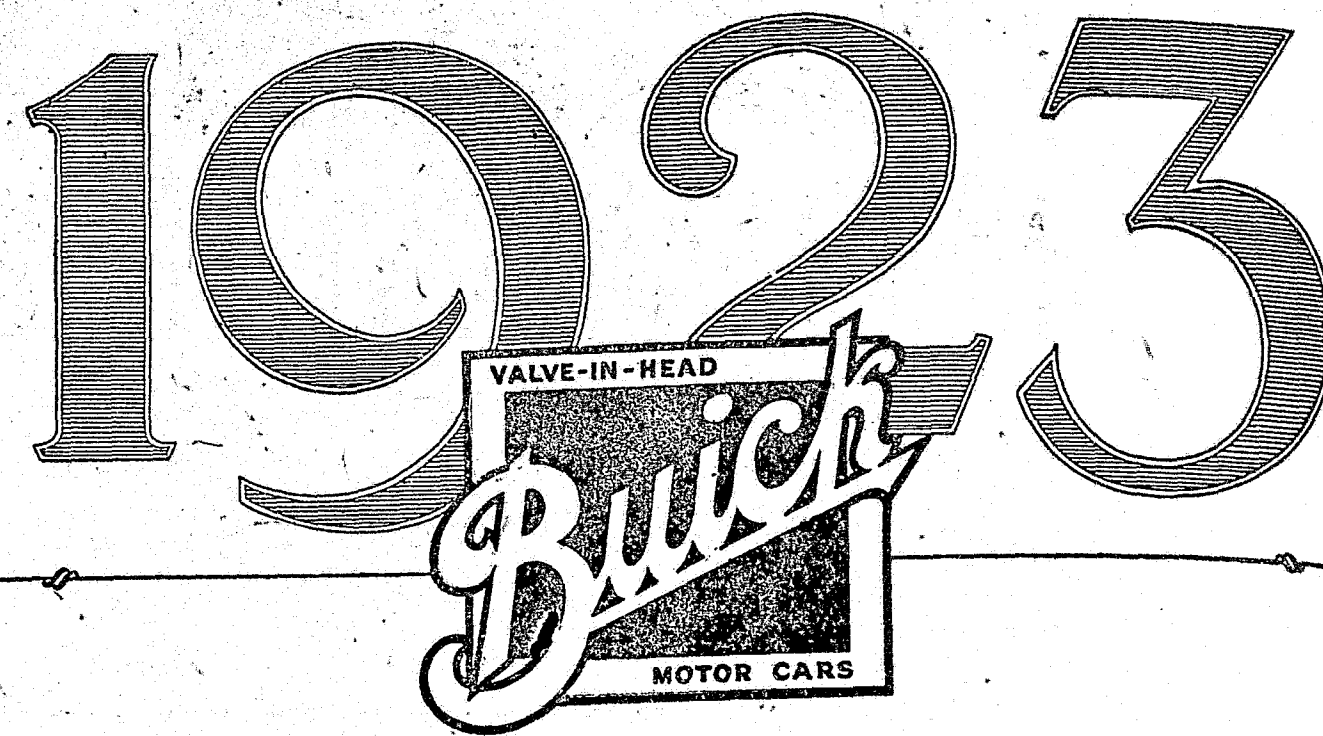

Twin Towns 3; Sherbrooke 2
A clean out game was played at Sherbrooke, P. Q., Sunday afternoon with Twin Town a winner in the grand. Benson went the entire distance for the Twins allowing the Canadians only eight scattered singles. The winners secured nine safeties. Billy White who had played for Sherbrooke at one time, was given an ovation when he approached the pan for his first wallop.

The team traveled in-state and enjoyed all the comforts of a special pullman sleeper, leaving South Paris Saturday night. Not quite so comfortable on the return as the sleeper was not set in the railway yard, but attached to the train, so the boys killed time until midnight before "hitting the hay." They reached home early Monday morning.

All agreed Sherbrooke is a city of fans and good sportsmen. Both teams were applauded when unusual plays went through and the visitors received a royal welcome.

It is understood the fast going Sherbrooke outfit will play a return date here this month.

L. L. Vivian and R. H. Tripp of Elizabeth, N. J., arrived early Saturday morning for a vacation at Lake Umbagog. They drove a 1916 Franklin Roadster from Newark, N. J., in 15 hours and 10 minutes, eight hours of the trip a mixture of cloud-bursts, wind and hard driving.

On July 10th a class in Home Hygiene and care of the sick was started with a roll of 12 pupils. Since this time eight lessons have been well attended. At the completion of the remaining seven an examination will be passed and certificates will be awarded to those who pass a creditable paper.

A well baby conference was opened July 20th, and is to continue all during the year until the weather becomes too severe and the nurse will then make calls to the homes. At the present date there are eighteen babies registered.

There will be a nursery equipped at the fair grounds in September under the supervision of the Red Cross-Community nurse and any mothers who will find it necessary to bring their babies and those to be entered at the baby show will be well looked after if the mothers wish to trust them to the nurses care. Accommodations for heating milk will be provided and also a rest room for nursing the babies.

NORTH NORWAY

Mrs. Claude A. Haskell, wife of Claude A. Haskell of North Norway passed away Friday forenoon, Aug. 4th, following a serious illness of many weeks duration, during which time she had been a great sufferer. Her oldest son, George, 8 and of about 12 years, developed blood poison after cutting his foot and while dressing the wound Mrs. Haskell became infected through a scratch on her hand. Expert medical advice has been had and doctors from out of town have been called at several different times all to no avail.

Seven trained nurses had cared for her during her illness, it being necessary to have a day and night nurse after the first. Her passing is very sad as she leaves three young sons besides her husband and parents.

Mrs. Haskell has been a resident of Norway all her life. She was born at Swift's Corner, the district where she has lived March 3, 1880, the daughter of Edwin A. and Jessie Hobbs Cox. NORWAY AND VICINITY

The whittlers are busy at the Weary Club and shavings accumulate on the floor as a monument to an old fashioned art.

Fred Sanborn furnished the cedar and is indirectly responsible for a revival of the winter pastime.

Clarence L. Ridon of West Paris joined the Dollar Day throng Saturday. He commented thus: "Pretty busy town when one must cross the street, covered by a traffic cop." He spoke from personal experience.

Simoon Harriman of Portland passed the week end at his home here.

The all-sorts editor has a sample of hand lathe turning, the gift from George H. Bennett who is skilful in this and other work. It is a wooden punch bowl with a loose wooden ring between the base and cup. Only a regular lathe operator can produce a baffling curiosity similar to this freak, but where is the chap to bring in a "filler" and make it practical? Mr. Bennett learned the trick from a demonstrator some forty years ago when the state fair was held at Portland.

Some interesting figures are gleaned from Alfred Ramsdell and Francis Ames trip in a Dunsmuir to St. Anne de Beaupre and return. Party left Norway Wednesday 6:30 A. M., spent the night at Quebec 275 miles away. Next morning drove to the famous shrine a distance of 20 miles, returned and made Sherbrooke, P. Q. mileage, for the day 203 miles. They reached Norway Friday at 7 P. M. total mileage 667 miles. The car used 24 gallons of gas and 2 quarts of oil all in three days without a stop. The party went via Augusta or the northern route and returned over the White Mountain route.

Mr. and Mrs. True C. Morrill of New Bedford, Mass., were in town Monday calling on friends.

Forest Longley carried a party to Raymond Sunday to visit the Longley family who have been there the past few weeks. They spent some time inspecting the images, the cave and other works of nature at Raymond Cape. Members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Foss, Mrs. Mary Chase, Josie Chase, Daisy Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Nevers, Paul Nevers, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeCoster, Mrs. Maud DeCoster and Forest Longley. L. M. Longley and family returned with them.

The body of Joseph Walsh was brought here Saturday from the Oxford Spring Sanatorium for services, the Rev. J. A. Redden of the St. Catherine church officiated. The deceased was a veteran of the World War under treatment at the Government institution. The remains were taken to his late home in Fitchburg, Mass. for interment.

Charles Verenis, "I no sells building, I rent the store, I serve from Norway" who takes it next week and sell clothing, dry goods and furnishings and that like. This is what Mr. Verenis told us in answer to our questions last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mitchell of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Oscar Bennett, Tuesday.

Different prices in side-by-side stores on the same day: Sweet corn 45 cents per dozen in one and 30 cents in the other. Undoubtedly both were selling as low as they thought they could afford.
